Mrs. Teat's Lectures

The lecture of Mrs. M. E. Teats, National Purity Evangelist of the W. C. T. U. under the auspices of the Campbell W. C. T. U., were well attended by appreciative audiences, speaking in the afternoon to women and girls at the new "Home for Rest and Refreshment" and in the evening at the union service in the Congregational church.

We count the fact significant that the first public meeting in this new W. C. T. U. building should be in the interest of individual and social purity. Is it not equally significant that the decorative sweet peas used upon this occasion, may be emblematic of the sweet Purity, Peace and Prosperity going out, henceforth, from this center?

Mrs. Teats believes that when all children are well worn, we shall have solved the problems of drunkenness, the liquor traffic and the social evil. The "College of Eugenics" in Chicago has a Correspondence Course dealing, scientifically upon the vital subjects of pure parenthood, pre-natal influences, training of childhood and kindred subjects.

The Campbell Woman's Christian Temperance Union have arranged to take up this Course at an early day and will welcome to its meetings any wishing to study along these lines and be graduated from this Correspondence School.

Congregational Church

The Pastor will be in his pulpit next Sunday. In the morning he will give a short talk to the boys and girls on "Starfish." In the evening, 7:30, there will be a Stereopticon Evening on "The Marathi Mission in India." This is Mr. Atkinson's birthplace. There will be many Hindoo curios, including idols, native paintings on mica, Poona figures—wax—representing the dress of various Hindoo cast's, etc. All are cordially invited.

Geo. E. Atkinson, Pastor.

The Boy and the Bank

One Dollar Will Start an Account

The first twenty-one years of one's life are spent in preparation for the future, and the habits and thoughts that are infused into a person during those twenty-one years will have the greatest influence on the following years of his life.

The boy should be taught to save and put his money in the bank. It is not discouraging to the boy to try to start a bank account when at our bank a dollar will start an account. A dollar is something to the boy, more than it is to the grown ups, and it may seem a little bit hard for him to save. But urge him to try it, and encourage him by giving him odd jobs to do, or giving him a little money now and then. Test the boy. See if he will not learn to save after urging. Point out to him the advantages of having money in the bank.

Berkeley.—Members of the faculty of the department of agriculture have been conducting a series of experiments with taro, a product of the South Sea Islands, a cousin of the potato. It excels its relative, however, in flavor and growing capacity. The department has reached the conclusion that taro can be grown here, as the climate seems to be suitable to it. The experiments will, however, be continued and the result tabulated in bulletin form.

WILEY WOULD SEIZE FRENCH PRUNES GROWN IN CALIF.

Kittens Born in an Oven Should be Called Biscuits; His Theory.

Washington.—Dr. Wiley, whose official head may be saved notwithstanding his scheme, which if carried out, would have resulted in false vouchers being submitted by him, by the clamor of those who believe his assertions that he is the only friend pure food has, recently distinguished himself by recommending the seizure of a shipment of French prunes from California. He recommended that they be seized on the ground that they be misbranded. The doctor thinks they were misbranded because they were not grown in France.

The board which passes on questions of that kind refused to certify the case to the lawyers who bring prosecutions. Wiley's friends think that another instance of the representatives of the "food poisoners" in the Department of Agriculture tying his hands so he cannot enforce the law. The law specifically puts the duty of enforcing it in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Mines Closed Makes Many Destitutes.

Sabinas, Coahuila, Mexico.—Salvador Madero, who arrived here from Monterey to look into the strike situation at the Rosita mines, announced that the mines would be closed from July 27th to January 1, 1912. This one camp contains about 6000 persons. When the mines close they will be destitute in a country that produces absolutely nothing to eat. It is believed other mines in this district also will close in a few days. About 30,000 are dependent upon these mines. Those who have the money to do so are leaving the district.

Fear of Gallows Causes Death.

Beaver, Pa.—Charles Hickman, who was to have been hanged here for the murder of his wife, Mollie, in February, 1910, collapsed in his cell in the county jail during the night and died. Hickman escaped from jail twice after his conviction, and attempted to take his life by inhaling gas. He repeatedly told the guards he would never live to be hanged.

Female Corpse in Male Attire.

San Diego.—The mystery of the corpse of the woman in man's clothing and found in Rose Canyon is no nearer solution than when the body was discovered. Examination of the locality disclosed dried blood stains. A bread toasting fork with blood stains on it was found near by. The coroner's jury found that the woman died of unknown causes.

Proceedings in Los Angeles Dynamiting Cases

Los Angeles.—In the defense's answer in the hearing of Mrs. Ortie Mc Manigal for contempt of court, the full transcripht of McManigal's confession was incorporated and presented in court. In this confession McManigal tells that J. J. McNamara arranged for and financed his trip west to dynamite the Llewellyn iron works and also of J. B. McNamara leaving for the west with a suitcase of infernal machines before the Times disaster.

Detailing what he claimed were J. J. McNamara's instructions to J. B. McNamara before the latter's departure for Los Angeles, McManigal said:

"J. J. told J. B. as we were getting ready to leave, and he says, 'You get out there and get in touch with Clancey and Clancey will make you acquainted with the the bunch around there.' He says 'You meet the old man out there, and he will tell you what is to be done.' By mentioning the old man, I learned his name was Tveitmoe and did not discuss the matter very much, going from the office there, but discussing it more on the train. He was very careful there—he didn't want to let things out, it seemed like, and I had to feel him out a good deal." After J. B. McNamara's return from the east, McManigal said J. J. arranged for J. B. and McManigal to go hunting. Declaring that he himself ble up the Llewellyn iron works, McManigal declared he was sent to Los Angeles at that time by J. J., that J. J. gave him the money to go and that he reported to J. J. after his return.

Innocent or guilty as an instigator of violence, John J. K. McNamara, in jail at Los Angeles awaiting trial for murder, is displaying a spirit of self-sacrifice and brotherly devotion hat lifts the Times dynamiting case to a higher level of dramatic interest and human appeal.

He has expressed the wish to be tried jointly with his brother, James B. McNamara, who is accused of actually touching off the charge that left the Times building a smouldering ruin.

District Attorney Fredericks took it for granted from the day of the arrests that John J. McNamara would demand a separate trial. Any other course would find no precident in the history of similar cases.

But J. J. McNamara has chosen to throw away the advantage of a personality that has won him he good will of his jailers and the leadership of an international labor union, in order that he may stand in the dock with his less prepossessing brother and walk out of the court room by his side at the end, both either condemned to punishment or entitled to freedom by the vote of a single jury.

Whether his attorneys will agree to a joint trial is not yet decided. They are by no means committed to separate trials, and it is within the probabilities that the two brothers will go into court together on October 11th.

$7,500,000 to be Spent on Key Route Ferry Terminal

Oakland.—By a resolution passed by the Oakland City Council, the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railroad Company, commonly known as the Key Route, can begin its contemplated $7,500,000 improvements to its service.

The City Council gave the railroad company permission to fill in along its trestle from the present shoreline several thousand feet to the new Speakhead pier, recently established by the Federal Board of Harbor Engineers.

Twice before when the company applied to the Government for this permission, the application was denied. When the Oakland city government began filling in 800 acres in the Key Route Basin recently, the board of engineers decided that as soon as the city had shown good faith in its improvements, it might grant permission to the railroad company to fill in along its trestle. The city has now spent over $100,000 in its improvements. Work will be begun by the Key Route Railroad at once. Besides filling in along the trestle and establishing a solid roadbed, a loop will be constructed to facilitate the service.

Mexican Bandits' Blood Still Stands at Fever Heat

Los Angeles.—"Within two weeks the Liberals will have a strong, centralized and well organized force proceeding against the troops of Madero. The little bands which the Mexican Government refers to as 'bandits' will grow into armies."

This was the statement made here by Ricardo Flores Magon, the indicted head of the local junta, and President of the Mexican Liberal party, following his release on bonds from the custody of the Federal Government. He continued:

"The actual uprising of the laborers because of the economic situation shows that the people are coming to realize their rights and they see that Madero has failed to make good his promises and improve the economic conditions.

"In the State of Morales the laboring people are taking possession of the large ranches, and the proprietors are fleeing to the City of Mexico. The Government of Mexico will never be a stable one until the producer gets at least part control of the machinery of the Government and is able to better his conditions.

Infected Immigrants From Italy Held in Quarantine

New York.—Following a series of conferences here between the United States and city health officials a concerted plan of action has been agreed upon by which it is hoped to effectually bar cholera from the densely populated East Side.

The Italian liners will be detained and their passengers held for ten days. Physicians at the cholera station at Hoffman's island have discovered five "cholera carriers" among the immigrants held there. All carried germs of the disease, though they themselves were apparently unaffected. The physicians say the germs would probably have lain dormant for a month and then would have been communicated to others.

No new cholera cases have been discovered at Swinburn Island and the physicians are beginning to hope the worst is passed.

Death Rate of Men Higher Than Women in California

Sacramento.—That males die off faster in California than females is the announcement made by Statistician George Leslie of the State Board of health. Data on the subject from the reports for 1910 show that out of the 32,398 deaths in the State, 20,188 were males and 12,210 females, making 7998 more males than females.

This percentage for males has been about the same for the last several years. In 1909 the percentage was 62.4, in 1908 it was 62.2 and for 1906 the percentage was 62.

By sections the percentages show some differences. For northern California it was 68.1, for central California it was 62.6, or for all north of the Tehachapi 63.3, against 59.6 for southern California. In each of the preceding years the percentages were higher for northern Califor ia.

HORSE TRAINER ENTITLED TO THE MONEY SAYS COURT

Responsibility of Railroad for Maiming Man Costs $70,000.

Fresno.—The largest verdict for personal injuries ever recorded in the California courts against a railroad must be paid by the Southern Pacific to W. R. Zibbell, a horse trainer, for the loss of an arm, a foot and a hand.

Zibbell was awarded a verdict of $100,000 in the Fresno county Superior Court, which was later reduced to $70,000 by consent of Zibbell. The Southern Pacific moved for a new trial, which was denied, and the railroad appealed to the Supreme Court. The appeal was denied, but a petition for rehearing was promptly filed. This was denied in an order of the court.

The injuries which practically made Zibbell a hopeless cripple for life were sustained in 1906 when a Southern Pacific freight train struck him on a crossing in Fresno, necessitating the amputation of his left arm, left foot and right hand. In court Zibbell testified that while he was crossing the tracks he heard no bell, saw no lights and was struck without warning.

Currupt Practise Law.

Boston.—The new Massachusetts corrupt practice act is pronounced an epoch-making enactment and is likely to be widely copied by other State Legislatures this winter. The previous law failed because there was no incentive for any one to enforce it. The new act provides that "whoever is convicted of violating the law relating to corrupt practices in elections shall be deemed ineligible to hold public office for three years, and if a person elected to office is convicted of corrupt practices, his office shall be vacated and a new election held"

To Protect American Interest.

Washington. — At the request of American Minister Furniss at Au Prince, the United States has sent another gunboat to Haytien waters to protect Americans and their interests now seriously threatened by the revolution against President Simon. The second warship goes to Port Au Prince, the capital. The gunboat Petrel is already at Port Liberte on the north coast.

Dalton Gets Eight Years.

Oakland.—Eight years' imprisonment in San Quentin is the sentence imposed upon Henry P. Dalton, convicted of accepting a bribe in his official capacity of Assessor of the county of Alameda, and Dalton has accepted the punishment without an appeal to the higher courts. He will be taken to San Quentin to begin his term either late this week or early next week.

Election Contested

Visalia.—Visalia voted wet by a vote of 511 to 505, after having twice previously voted dry. This was the first election held in the State under the Wylie local option law. As a result of numerous alleged illegal votes cast for the saloons, a statement was made that a contest will be brought by the drys into court to have the illegal votes thrown out.

Body Found in Mine Shaft.

Redding.—The body of Saumel Adrian, who had been missing 15 days, was found at the bottom of a 40-foot shaft in Harrison Gulch under circumstances that suggested murder. Harrison Gulch is a mining town in the southwestern part of Shasta county, 55 miles from Redding.

Mexicans Must Explain.

The large crowd dispersed and there was no excitement about the mouth of the pit. The bodies were not burned and it is quite evident the men died as the result of after damp.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential and always helpful.

What Vacation Means.

A true vacation means change. Change of scene, change of air, change of thought. An escape from monotonous routine, and a refreshment of mind and body. Hours and hours are often expended in seeking the ideal way of achieving this result. "Where shall we go?" It is a theme that eludes us—a willful will o' the wisp. We take it up seriously months in advance and put it aside unsolved. Distance, time, comfort, health, expense, all play their role and must be considered in planning one's vacation.

Valuable Training.

"Why do you insist on that boy's studying music?" said the man with respect for art. "You know he can't sing."

"Yes," replied the patient father, "I know it, and I want him to learn enough about music to realize it for himself."—Washington Star.

FEEDING AND FERTILIZING VALUE OF COMMON LAGUMES

Roots Extend Below Depth Penetrated By the Ordinary Crops.

Leguminous plants, such as cowpeas, soy beans, peanuts, clovers, vetches, etc., are admirably adapted for use in a rotation when such crops as corn, cotton and small grains are grown. They restore the soil in nitrogen, the element which is most expensive when bought in commercial fertilizers and the one most likely to be needed when soil begins to fail. These plants usually make a vigorous growth and consequently supply an abundance of humus, which is essential in keeping the mechanical and chemical conditions of the soil suitable for the production of large crops.

Legumes are tap-rooted plants and extend the root zone below the depth penetrated by such crops as corn, oats, wheat, rye and barley. This pulverizes the soil, permits a free circulation of air, percolation of water and consequently favorable conditions for soil organisms which greatly assist in rendering slowly available elements ready for the use of plants.

Most legumes mature quickly and may be planted after other crops are harvested. Cowpeas may be planted after a crop of oats or wheat; peanuts often mature a crop when planted after small grains; crimson clover may be planted between cotton rows for a winter cover crop and to maintain the livestock.

The feeding value of leguminous crops is worthy of consideration. Those who have plenty of alfalfa, cowpea and clover hay are fortunate. No plan of rotation is complete without legumes. They furnish feed for stock, fertility for the soil and funds with which to maintain the farm.

The Only Way.

He was a very raw recruit, and particularly stupid at that. The drill sergeant did not know what to do with him. He had tried patience, he had tried language, all in vain.

"Squad—halt!" yelled the sergeant.

The double rank of them obeyed, but the very raw recruit marched gayly on.

"Fitzmooney!" shouted the sergeant

"Yus, sergint."

"Did ye ever drive a donkey?"

"Yus, sergint."

"What did ye say to him when ye wanted 'im to stop?"

"I said 'Whoa,' sergint."

"Very well. Squad—'tshun! By the right, quick, march! Lef', lef', lef'! Squad—halt—Whoa, Fitzmooney!"—Tit-Bits.

Unpalatable.

Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon was fond of a joke, and his keen wit was, moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone, and the rest was grit."—Youth's Companion.

Not A Fan.

"Charley," said young Mrs. Torkins, "didn't you say that man has something to do with first base?"

MUNYON'S WORK TALK OF CITY

Big Success Shown by number of Callers at San Francisco Headquarters.

Local Man Tells of Remarkable Relief From Rheumatism in Year's Time.

The apparent success which Professor James M. Munyon, the world-famous health authority, has been meeting in San Francisco has started much discussion. The continuous stream of callers has kept Dr. Munyon's expert representatives busy every day for several weeks at the main store of the Owl Drug Company, San Francisco, where he has established headquarters for meeting the people.

Munyon's following seems to be enormous. Those who believe in his theories seem to think he possesses the most marvelous powers for the healing of all sorts of diseases. Munyon, himself, laughs at this. He says, "The hundreds of cures which you are hearing about every day in San Francisco are not in any way due to my personal skill. It is my remedies, which represent the combined brains of the greatest medical specialists science has ever known, that is doing the work. I have paid thousands of dollars for a single formula and the exclusive right to manufacture it. I have paid tens of thousands of dollars for others of my various forms of treatment. That is why I get such remarkable results. I have simply bought the best products of the best brains in the world and placed this knowledge within the reach of the general public."

Among Munyon's callers yesterday were many who were enthusiastic in their praise of the man. One of these said: "For six years I suffered from rheumatism. My arms and legs were afflicted so badly that I could hardly work, and I could not raise my arms to my head. The pain was most severe in the back, however, and I was in perfect torture. I tried in many ways to get cured, or even to secure temporary relief, but nothing seemed to help me until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Munyon's Uric Acid Course. It was the most marvelously acting remedy I ever saw; within a week the pain had most gone and inside of a month I considered myself entirely cured. I can now go out in the worst weather—cold, or wet, or anything else, and I have not felt any suspicion of a return of the disease. I think that every person who has rheumatism and does not take the Uric Acid Course is making a great mistake."

Letters addressed to Professor J. M. Munyon, care Owl Drug Co., San Francisco, Cal., will receive as careful attention as though the patient called in person. Medical advice and consultation absolutely free. Not a penny to pay.

Getting the Vernacular.

"Pretty handsome barn, don't you think?" said the member of the city group who had been on the farm before.

"Which is that?" asked the one who was on her first visit.

"The large red building is the barn."

"Oh, yes; and the little buildings around it are the barnacles, are they?"—Buffalo Express.

MUCH LOYALTY IN AMERICA; HEAVY DRAIN ON PURSE

Sympathy Due the Conscientious Citizen Trying to Be Loyal.

The extraordinary amount of loyalty the ordinary American citizen is called upon to put forth may be one of the reasons why our political institutions are not all that they might be. Loyalty to country and flag goes without saying, but in addition most of us are constantly being called upon to be loyal to State, county, city, borough, Senatorial district and neighborhood association. The man whose home is not the home of his ancestors is in a peculiarly difficult position; he may have two or more states and cities to be loyal to—the state in which he was born, the state in which he married, the state in which most of his business interests may happen to lie and the state in which he actually abides. Sympathy is certainly due to the conscientious citizen who may simultaneously be called upon to be loyal to a city that is in danger of depopulation, to another city that wants 50,000 inhabitants by the next census, to still another city that wants a new university and to a native village that wishes to put up a soldiers' monument. So much for geographical loyalty, which is only the beginning. The man we have in mind is sure to be urged with great frequency to be loyal to his Alma Mater, to his Masonic lodge, to the Retail Merchants' Association of which he is a member and to his bowling club.—New York Evening Post.

The Optimist.

"Why, we've lied so much now that the Court might not believe us."—Judge's Library.

Useful.

"Was your lecture a success?"

"In a way," replied the new statesman. "It served as a pretext for a very lengthy and carefully prepared address by the local celebrity who introduced me."—Washington Star.

Did Not Call for Ambulance.

After a day and a night spent in answering telephone calls from people who wanted the latest news from Peary and Dr. Cook, the secretary of one of the Arctic clubs had retired for a well-earned rest, when the persistent phone bell rang again. A voice at the other end said:

"Do you want the ambulance sent right over?"

"What ambulance?" roared the irate secretary.

"Why, the one you sent for."

"I sent for no ambulance."

"You lie!"

The secretary gasped; then he screamed into the phone:

"Send it on as soon as possible, and you come over, too, and I'll send you back in it!"—New York Sun.

IF there is any mode of interesting voters that has not been used by the California suffragists it has not been discovered. They have interested prominent men and women; they have entertained and incidentally instructed thousands of people at mass meetings; they have given teas and plays; they have held bridge parties and poster displays; they have scattered literature broadcast; they have besieged the press of the state with suffrage news and logic—but they are not content. During the last twelve weeks of the campaign, from Siskiyou to San Diego the suffragists will devote their attention to one thing—the Great Register. Each county will have its organizers, whose chief duty will be to check all voters who are misguided enough to oppose suffrage with a big black mark. But the enthusiasm of the "North-of-Tehachepi" as well as the "South-of-Tehachapi" suffragists is such that they claim victory will be in the proportion of three to one, in their separate districts, after the house to house canvass is accomplished.

Ten thousand letters have been sent to the farmers of the State by the California Political Equality League of Los Angeles. The letter that follows gives the pith of the suffrage reasons which, if enumerated, would be multitudinous:

"Mothers, Fathers, and All Good Citizens:—

"A constitutional amendment of giving the suffrage to WOMEN is to be voted on October 10th, 1911.

"MOTHERS—Our duty is to take care of the Home and the Child, BUT, we cannot raise good children unless we can control the conditions surrounding the home.

"The VOTE has to do with the COST OF LIVING, SANITATION, FOOD SUPPLY, EDUCATION AND MORAL CONDITIONS AFFECTING OUR YOUNG PEOPLE. Big organizations are making vast profits from Commercialized Vice—We and our children are the victims. MOTHERS, beseech the men you know to give you the VOTE to protect the HOME.

"FATHERS—Remember your DAUGHTERS—they must make a living; conditions are hard for them—GIVE THE GIRL AS FAIR A SHOW AS THE BOY. Protect your daughters by giving them the Vote.

"CITIZENS—Put it into the hands of the many for it is just and it is PROGRESSIVE. It doubles the power for good. Thousands of women desire their need of it. Thousands of women desire it and realize their need of it.

"VOTE FOR THE AMENDMENT GIVING WOMEN THE SUFFRAGE and insure good government in California."

BUSINESS BUILDING

By DUNDAS HENDERSON

Advertising Manager of the C. E. Zimmerman Co., Chicago

Persistent Advertising Brings Business Success

If the money that is spent every year by "occasional" advertisers were added up it would be found to amount to a large sum. By "occasional" advertising I mean the using of space at irregular periods in your newspaper. Local publicity is often done this way under the excuse of helping the paper, but the real reason, if the advertiser could be got to admit it, is that he is half-hearted about the matter. He partly looks upon advertising as a luxury anyhow, and so curtails his expenditure on it to the lowest limit.

Although the retailer may regard publicity as a luxury, if yet seems to be a dream on his part that one day he will make some real success and a handsome fortune through advertising. Indeed, down deep in all retailers' hearts is a feeling that money can positively be made through advertising. They know that huge fortunes have been and are being piled up by retail merchants with the aid of this limitless force, and they have secret hopes that one day they also may strike the royal road to success. If they but knew it that road lies straight and plain before every retailer in the country if he would only open his eyes to see it.

John Wanamaker, the great New York and Philadelphia retail merchant, on one occasion said: "Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls." It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge that load, while one-half the force in steady effort will start and keep it moving."

Here is the solution in a nutshell—steady effort. The merchant who uses newspaper space "occasionally" is simply wasting his efforts. It is the steady pounding—and pounding again—that makes success in advertising as in everything else. All advertising is good in proportionate degree to how it is done, and even occasional advertising has some value, but to be successful to the point of permanently increasing your bank account, it must be done persistently and systematically.

What would you say about a clerk in your store who waited on your customers for a day or two and then sat down to rest for a few more days, leaving the customers to attend to themselves? You know how long your business would last under such conditions. It is the same with newspaper advertising. Publicity in your newspaper is simply salesmanship on paper, and the same rules apply to it as apply to salesmanship in your store. Continuous effort and eternal polishing up of ideas and methods are necessary to make success either as a personal salesman in your store or as a salesman in your newspaper.

You advertise to sell your goods and keep your name in front of the people. It is only reasonable to suppose that you will be better able to do this with persistent effort than with spasmodic attempts. If you were to tell a man or woman daily about the quality and prices of your wares you would produce more effect than if you were to talk to him or her at uncertain intervals.

The question of changing the salesmanship or "copy" in your advertising space is an important one. It acts this way. Suppose you had a pile of some special goods for sale. Suppose you were determined to sell some of those goods to some particular customer. After you had asked that customer to buy those goods would you, the next time you approached her, else exactly the same language and arguments? You know you would not. You would hunt up new ideas to attract her attention; new ways of convincing her and new methods to get her to buy. You must apply the same principles to your advertising. You must be continually hunting up ideas, new arguments and new ways of attracting and holding attention. Salesmanship in newsyaper space is just the same as salesmanship behind your counter.

The trouble the ordinary storekeeper is up against is securing this salesmanship on paper I have outlined. He can purchase advertising space readily enough and so long as he buys enough space for a long enough period to make a successful display he has done all that the successful merchant can do in that respect. But when it comes to filling the space the question assumes a different shape.

Advertisement constructing is a profession like medicine or law. When you are sick you go to a physician. When your business wants toning up, why should you not go to a business doctor?—an advertising expert? There are on the market a number of what are called Syndicate Advertising Services. These can be obtained for as low as one dollar per week. They give you precisely the same service as is given to department stores and national advertisers by first-class individual advertising managers. These services are usually supplied in a series of fifty-two advertisements, one for each week in the year, together with fifty-two copperplate cuts of high grade illustrations drawn by high salaried artists. The advertisements are constructed by writers of national reputation and with great experience, men who have made success for thousands of other retailers in the same position as yourself. The low price charged for these advertisements is only made possible because of thousands of the same advertisement that are sold to different merchants throughout the country. One only merchant in each town is allowed to use the service for his own trade.

Particulars of the best of these syndicated advertising services may be had from the editor of this paper, and I earnestly advise you, as an up-to-date merchant, to get them at once. "The early bird catches the worm" is a true saying and it is nowhere better exemplified than in this case; the retailer who uses a service of this kind here now will start himself on a near cut to independence and fortune.

"Yale" Fruit Press

Now that summer is come and the fruit season is upon us, every woman who does her own preserving needs a fruit press as a time-saver. She will find it simply invaluable for making all sorts of jams, jellies, grape juice and cider, and she will have much better luck with her sweets than by using the old method of straining through a bag and other old-time methods. They come in two, four and eight-quart sizes, to suit the needs of large or small families, and can be clamped onto any table. They are almost indestructible as the presses are made of plaited steel and iron. The thought of having fresh cider on the table every day in the fall should delight every household, particularly if it can be done with such a small amount of labor. Fruit jellies made with this press are absolutely clear and every drop of juice is extracted from the fruit, thus proving how economical such a kitchen utility really is. With such a help as this no housekeeper can dread preserving time.
